Saskatoon: March 8-9, 2010

Registration is limited to 25 people.

$175 per person

The National Centre for First Nations Governance offers this flagship workshop at a low cost to introduce Prairie Region First Nations to our new workshop series.

The Territorial Rights workshop gives you a framework to leverage the law for your maximum benefit.

In recent years, Canadian courts have recognized Treaty First Nation interests in their land.

The law is evolving quickly and many Treaty First Nations are now using consultation and accommodation to gain greater control over their traditional lands.
